DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of vitamins as the species preserved from oxidative damage in the reply filed on February 24, 2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicant has failed to particularly and distinctly set forth the steps of the instantly claimed method. Specifically, applicant's use of the phrase "further comprising" renders said claims indefinite as it is unclear if the text following said phrase is intended to denote an additional step or a more detailed description of the first step. Based on the examiner's review of the specification, the method of preserving vitamins employs a single step which conflicts with the instant claim language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 2, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ghosal US 6,235,721 (Ghosal).

Ghosal discloses the combination of DNA and vitamin C or a vitamin C/E blend (column 14). Ghosal is silent on the preservation of vitamins with the DNA; however, artisans of ordinary skill may not recognize the inherent characteristics or functioning of the prior art. In construing process claims and references, it is the identity of manipulative operations which leads to finding of anticipation. In the instant case, it does not appear that the claim language or limitations result in a manipulative difference in the method steps when compared to the prior art disclosure.

6. Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ghosal US 6,235,721 (Ghosal).

Ghosal discloses the combination of DNA and vitamin C or a vitamin C/E blend (column 14).

Conclusion

7. Claims 1-2 and 10-15 are pending. Claims 1-2 and 10-15 are rejected. No claims are allowed.
